

The Perfect Pinka House had a nice side branch for Pinka to sit on. The Perfect Pinka House had branches that could be moved to make a perfect Pinka door.

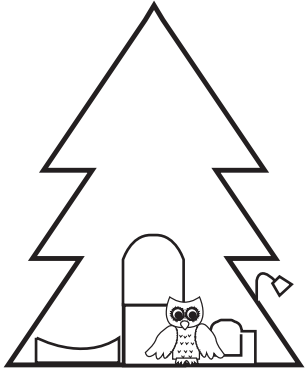

© Grandma Van Stories c/o Instructables

A House for Pinka

Inside, Pinka made a lovely little bed out of a wide curved branch. Then Pinka made a nice little chair out of another branch. She brought in a lamp so that she would have a place to read.

Pinka was very happy with her new house.

THE END

There were MANY trees in the Magic Forest. Most of them were pine trees. Pinka wanted to live in a pine tree.

It was not too tall. It was not too short. It was a Perfect Pinka House.

After searching for hours, Pinka found just the right tree.

It was in the middle of the Magic Forest.

One fine day, Pinka decided look for a house. She flew to the Magic Forest.